Iris Lodge Alpacas - Jilliby

About

Iris Lodge Alpacas is an eco-friendly hinterland sanctuary on the Central Coast. The working farm is home to 140 alpacas, 12 llamas and a variety of other animals, all freely roaming across 93 picturesque acres.

The hosts actively welcome all visitors and accommodate a range of needs as required.

Overview

From petting and hand-feeding the animals, to relaxing outdoors in the serene Central Coast Hinterland, every visit to Iris Lodge is an opportunity to create unforgettable memories.

These immersive agri-tourism experiences are educational, family-friendly, and accessible, making Iris Lodge Alpacas a unique and essential stop on any New South Wales drive itinerary north of Sydney.

Experiences include:

- Brunch with alpacas
- Alpaca meet and greets
- Alpaca farm visits including babydoll and wiltipoll sheep.

Getting around

Iris Lodge is a working farm with all the equipment and considerations to make it a functional farmgate experience for visitors.

The accessible car park is 10 metres from the farmgate on a solid surface.

When you arrive, you'll be briefed by the hosts about your day on the farm. Depending on the experience booked, you'll be led to different parts of the farm.

Alpacas and Llamas are fed in different paddocks and on the pathways.

From the main entrance, the closest paddock is about 30 metres away and the larger, covered feeding area with seating is about 100 metres.

Access has been considered though some visitors with reduced mobility should be aware the surfaces are small stones and grass.

A ramp is available for access into the outdoor kitchen area and the hosts are very willing to assist in any way to enable guest requirements.

Please be aware dogs are not permitted on our farm as we have sheep guard dogs, sheep and alpacas.
